Anton Paar purchased Quantachrome

Dear valued Quantachrome customer,

Earlier this year Anton Paar GmbH of Austria has acquired Quantachrome Instruments, a global leader in laboratory material characterization instrumentation for the analysis of porous materials and powders.

So far the Quantachrome portfolio has been represented in Australia and New Zealand by Scientific Solutions. As of, 1 January 2019 Anton Paar Australia Pty Ltd and Anton Paar New Zealand Limited will be responsible for selling and servicing all Quantachrome product lines.

Anton Paar in Australia and New Zealand and Scientific Solutions Australia have agreed to work together during this transitional process to ensure that all existing and new customers, are able to enjoy the new found benefits of having a large global supplier coupled with the local experience and knowledge through Scientific Solutions.

What this means is that for any support issues, customers can contact either Anton Paar or Scientific Solutions. By working together, we shall endeavor to help all our customers, present and future, quickly and more efficiently.
